

Stroud District Council is running a public consultation on a Draft Conservation Area Statement (CAS) for the Randwick conservation area

Randwick was first designated as a conservation area in June 1990. No boundary changes have been made since its original designation and the conservation area does not have an adopted Conservation Area Statement (CAS).

Randwick Parish Council has worked with specialist consultants to produce a Draft CAS, which describes the character and historic significance of the conservation area and sets out a series of management proposals and design guidelines to help ensure the conservation area is conserved and enhanced.

Following consultation, Stroud District Council will consider adopting the document as Supplementary Planning Advice (SPA), to help inform planning decisions and steer the application of Local Plan policies within the conservation area.

HAVE YOUR SAY!
We would like your views about the content of the Draft CAS, including proposed boundary changes.
Is it factually accurate? Are the proposals clear, justified and reasonable? Has anything been missed?
